THE ANNALS INDEX VOLUME 22

Margaret Byrne Swain
University of California, Davis, USA

Annals, Volume 22 offers a Special Issue 22(2) on Gender in Tourism. Gender, a fundamental category of human organization like age, ethnicity/race/nationality, and class, has rarely been factored into past studies of the tourist or tourism industry. However, a number of recent publications, including our Special Issue, have begun to address the diversity of tourism experience and practice from a gender perspective. New categories added to the Annals index this year include "children", "collaboration", and "feminism". A wealth of articles on site-specific studies, theoretical considerations and methodological issues round out this volume, concluding with a useful review of index and abstract services covering tourism.
